MEETING OF AUGUST 2, 2022

TO: Mayor; Fayetteville City Council
THRU: Susan Norton, Chief of Staff
FROM: Jonathan Curth, Development Services Director

DATE: July 15, 2022

SUBJECT: Approval of a professional services agreement with Stantec Consulting Services Inc. in the amount of $69,610, pursuant to RFP#22-04, for the development of a citywide Heritage and Historic Preservation Master Plan.

RECOMMENDATION:
City staff recommend approval of a professional services agreement with Stantec Consulting Services Inc. in the amount of $69,610, pursuant to RFP#22-04, for the development of a citywide Heritage and Historic Preservation Master Plan.

BACKGROUND:
Two of the benchmarks for City Plan 2040 identified for short term (2019-2025) action are:

- Seek funding to complete a citywide Community Preservation Plan to identify resources for future historic survey and registration, assess current preservation efforts, and plan for new initiatives. (Goal 1)
- Work to preserve the historic character and integrity of neighborhoods with multiple approaches including but not limited to: create one or more Local Regulated District(s) in neighborhoods listed on the National Register of Historic Places; and utilize other preservation tools such as overlay districts with the main goal of preserving historic character. (Goal 1)

City Plan 2040, which was adopted in 2020, laid out six primary goals, the first of which (and referenced in the benchmarks above) is directly related to the project presented with this professional services agreement:

1. We will make appropriate infill and revitalization our highest priorities: encouraging the development or redevelopment of vacant, mostly vacant, and underdeveloped property.

Objective 3.1.6 Encourage historic preservation and adaptive re-use of buildings under Goal 1 states: “Historic preservation is crucial in retaining a community’s character, identity, and evolutions. Preservation and restoration can be an effective tool for economic development and revitalization, achieving urban sustainability through reducing waste and emissions, and maintaining property values. Recent calculations indicate that it takes 35 to 50 years for a new energy efficient building to save the amount of energy lost in demolishing an existing building...
(National Trust for Historic Preservation). Preservation and adaptive reuse of Fayetteville’s historically significant structures and landscapes should be encouraged and achieved by a variety of methods, such as public education and outreach, establishing local historic districts, accepting façade easements, and amending the City’s zoning and development regulations.

Additionally, Objective 3.1.7 Encourage protection of community character in established neighborhoods states: “Many of Fayetteville’s most vibrant and diverse neighborhoods do not meet the requirements for inclusion on the National Historic Register but are worthy of preservation efforts because they are stable and foster a sense of community among their residents. Many of Fayetteville’s neighborhoods built in the 1940’s, 50’s and 60’s in the City’s core and in proximity to downtown and the University of Arkansas have seen significant development pressure in recent years. Much of this development has been positive with once vacant and overgrown lots being developed with infill housing, however, the City is now experiencing a significant amount of demolition of existing structures with replacement of structures that are out of scale and character. Zoning and development actions occurring in existing neighborhoods should be closely evaluated and development tools should be established to ensure that neighborhood cohesion and character is not sacrificed at the expense of new development. Zoning provisions, such as height, setbacks, and building mass remain the primary tools that policy makers can use to preserve these neighborhoods.”

On December 15, 2020 City Council approved resolution 319-20 to authorize an application for a Certified Local Government grant from the Arkansas Historic Preservation Program to complete a community-wide preservation plan. This resolution included a budget adjustment to appropriate $20,000 in matching funds for the anticipated grant. A second resolution 129-21 was approved for the grant application on May 4, 2021 and a third resolution 302-21 was passed on December 7, 2021. The series of resolutions authorizing the grant applications were a result of conflicts between the grant application windows, COVID-related delays, and staffing shortages to administer the grant and planning process. However, a grant request for $60,000 was submitted to the Arkansas Historic Preservation Program in December 2021, and Long Range Planning staff were notified in March 2022 that the City of Fayetteville had been awarded a $50,000 grant for a city-wide historic preservation plan. The City Council approved the acceptance of the grant on March 1, 2022 with Resolution 58-22, and upon confirmation of the grant award and project budget City staff issued RFP#22-04 for consulting services for a Citywide Heritage & Historic Preservation Master Plan to support the planning process and complete the project in the timeline required by the Arkansas Historic Preservation Program.

DISCUSSION:
Stantec Consulting Services Inc., formerly Cox|McLain Environmental Consulting based in Austin, Texas, was selected for the project with subconsultant McDouf Preservation LLC providing stakeholder and public engagement as well as project management support. The project team represents both breadth and depth in multiple aspects of historic preservation work, including work supported by Arkansas Historic Preservation Program grants, historic preservation planning, cultural resource identification, historic property evaluation, specialized work in historic African American neighborhoods, and GIS-based analysis.
In summary, the planning process is anticipated to:

- Provide an analysis of Fayetteville’s historic context and past historic preservation efforts
- Engage the community in a multi-step planning process to provide education and information as well as elicit feedback and comment.
- Formulate a collective heritage and historic preservation vision and set of goals for Fayetteville.
- Produce a plan document that captures:
  - Benefits of historic preservation
  - Historic property surveys and National Register listings
  - Summaries of the planning process and community input
  - A strategic plan to support the City’s long-range vision for historic preservation
  - Action items to implement the plan
  - Prioritized projects for future grant funding requests
  - Listings of incentives, grants and other available historic preservation tools

The planning process is expected to kick off in September 2022 and conclude in July 2023 to meet the Certified Local Government grant timeline required by the Arkansas Historic Preservation Program.

BUDGET/STAFF IMPACT:
This project is funded by a $50,000 Certified Local Government grant from the Arkansas Historic Preservation Program and a $20,000 budget allocation approved in 2020.

APPENDIX 1: SCOPE OF SERVICES

Task 1. Project Management
This task will capture the project management (internal and external) during the development of the plan. Stantec will begin the project with a productive kick off meeting to support effective project initiation.

Deliverables for this task include:

- Project Work Plan
- Progress meeting agendas and minutes
- Quarterly progress reports

Task 2. Existing Conditions Analysis
During this phase of the project, Stantec will conduct a general background review of the history of Fayetteville. This task will involve a review, assessment, and summary of the City of Fayetteville’s existing preservation program, economic factors, and tools. Stantec will work with community members, City officials, City Council, the Historic District Commission (HDC), and stakeholders to assess the successes, failures, and general knowledge and reception of these existing programs, procedures, and tools. Topics to explore will include:

- Successes and failures with the existing historic preservation program
- Preliminary discussion of observed trends from City and stakeholder perspective that could shape the preservation plan
  - Areas threatened by redevelopment or neglect
  - Areas of special interest to the community
  - Properties or neighborhoods associated with underrepresented groups
- Prior survey and documentation
- Input from prior community meetings or surveys

Any City programs or policies related to historic preservation will also be reviewed, assessed, and summarized. This assessment will help to help craft questions and discussions points for stakeholder interviews and public, and the summaries will be included in the final preservation plan. This analysis will identify challenges and opportunities for the City's preservation program.

Task 3. Community Engagement and Outreach
Public Outreach Strategy
The Stantec team will develop a public outreach strategy that places the community voice first in planning the future of historic preservation in Fayetteville. The strategy will specify how public input is integrated in all components of the plan, including vision, goals, criteria, opportunities, strategy, and implementation. To ensure the capture of all citizen perspectives, the plan will incorporate both traditional and non-traditional outreach methods. Social media, the City’s website, and targeted outreach will ensure sufficient engagement. Tangible resources including but not limited to slideshows, maps, presentation boards, diagrams, tables, and handouts may be developed and provided for events and continued reference. Once complete, key themes and principles from the community engagement phase will be incorporated in the plan.

Steering committee
The City will identify appropriate members, coordinate their participation, and host the meetings. Stantec will be available to attend a monthly steering committee meeting throughout the project to provide regular updates and gather input and feedback.

Stakeholder Interviews
Based on the results of our background research, we will conduct up to 15 virtual/telephone fact-finding interviews with individuals representing key stakeholder groups. Stakeholder interviews have two main objects:

- Providing an opportunity for stakeholder groups to share view and influence the outcome of the planning process.
- Ensure that the planning effort addresses issues of importance to those affected by the plan.

These interviews help to identify issues of concern to the members of the community most active and engaged in historic preservation. This information will be supported and supplemented by further investigation to determine the extent to which these issues prevail throughout the greater community. The Stantec team is committed to guaranteeing anonymity during the interview and reporting process, thus allowing participants to speak candidly.

Working with the City, the Stantec team will finalize the list of stakeholder groups, which may include the following:

- HDC members
- Local architects
- Local developers
- Local preservation stakeholders
- Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce
- City personnel in key departments
- Stakeholders from underrepresented and marginalized communities
- Organizations focusing on art, culture, heritage, and historic preservation

We will draft a set of questions and provide the City the opportunity to edit or suggest question topics. A final set of questions with an opportunity for open comments will be developed. Interviews will be summarized, and the findings will be incorporated into the historic preservation plan.

Online Community Opinion Survey
Stantec will develop a community opinion survey of no more than 15 questions, to measure the extent to which issues identified by stakeholders are important to the public as a whole. The survey will also help gauge the public’s understanding of the current preservation program, gain feedback on successes, as well as roadblocks to preservation, and solicit recommendations. Stantec will develop the survey and solicit input and approval from the City. The survey will be translated into Spanish and Stantec will support the City in ensuring that paper copies can be available. We assume that City staff would be available to assist illiterate persons in completing the survey.
The results of the community opinion survey will be summarized, and the findings will be incorporated into the historic preservation plan.

Deliverables for this task include:

- Community Involvement Plan
- Stakeholder interview summary report
- Raw data from community survey

Task 4. Identify the Vision and Goals Specific to the City of Fayetteville

Public Meeting 1 (in-person)
The first meeting would be held in Fall 2022. At this meeting, the public will be introduced to the project, its goals, and opportunities for involvement. The data from our work on the project up to this point will be used as a basis for information-gathering activities at the meeting. This meeting is intended to be a working meeting that encourages public input on the vision and goals for the historic preservation plan. We will address key discussion topics such as defining historic preservation and its benefits; how historic significance is defined (including various designation levels); and how historic preservation tools can be used in practice. The meeting will also provide an overview of heritage and historic preservation challenges and opportunities. The meeting will be sequenced to occur during the period that the community survey is open; participants will be reminded to participate.

Public Meeting 2 (in-person)
The second meeting will be a public forum to present the recommendations of the Draft Plan. During this meeting, the Stantec team will explain how the results of the stakeholder interviews, steering committee meetings, and community survey were incorporated into the plan. The team will explain the public review process for the plan, including how the community can access the draft and submit comments.

Public Meeting 3 (virtual)
The third and final public meeting will occur when the final draft of the plan has been published. We will review the goals and action items and energize the community for taking an active role in execution of the plan.

Deliverables for this task will include: copies of meeting materials, sign-in sheets, and a summary of input from the public forum and comments on Draft Plan that is incorporated into the Final Plan.

Task 5. Preparation of the Plan Document
The below outline presents potential contents for the plan, which would be finalized with the City.

Stantec will submit one electronic draft of the plan for the City’s review and comment. The City’s representative will distribute the draft to project stakeholders as desired (e.g. the HDC, Black Heritage Preservation Commission, Planning Commission, etc.), review staff and stakeholders’ comments, and compile a final refined set of comments into a comment matrix.
We will host a virtual meeting to discuss any comments that require clarification, and then prepare Draft 2 of the plan, incorporating the review comments. Once vetted by the City, Draft 2 will be published for public/community review. We will host a Google Sheets document for entering comments in a matrix. Alternate methods (e.g. paper/mailed comment forms) will also be offered, to ensure that there is an opportunity for accessible and meaningful public comment.

After addressing comments from the public on Draft 2, we will prepare the Final Draft Plan for submission to AHPP. After AHPP review and the third public meeting, the Final Plan will be prepared for City Council Approval.

Task 6. Historic Resources Survey Plan

Stantec will develop a historic resources survey plan for the City of Fayetteville. The plan will consider the following factors:

- Extent of prior survey documentation
- Relative age of historical resources
- Threats (redevelopment, neglect, etc.)
- Potential for historic designation
- Thematic relationships

To inform the recommendations of the survey plan, Stantec will conduct limited windshield reconnaissance and prepare an annotated list of previous historic resources surveys. We will create an online map using the ArcGIS Online (AGOL) platform to conduct map-based analyses. To the extent possible, the map will show locations of previous survey projects as well as designated historic properties. The document will include an implementation plan and funding sources for historic resources surveys.

Attachment: Arkansas Historic Preservation Program Grant Agreement
- Appendix C (Design Guidelines and Preservation Plans)
- Appendix F (The Secretary of the Interior’s Historic Preservation Professional Qualification Standards)
1. PURPOSE:

The City of Fayetteville, Arkansas, hereinafter referred to as “the City”, is requesting proposals from qualified firms with experience in municipal, comprehensive, urban and land use planning, economic analysis, and citizen involvement/participation, to prepare a Heritage and Historic Preservation Master Plan for the City of Fayetteville, as described in the following Scope of Work. It is the intent of the City of Fayetteville to select a single firm or team to accomplish the services outlined in this Request for Proposals.

Questions from interested parties shall be submitted to Jonathan Smith, Sr. Purchasing Agent, no later than 10 A.M. CST on April 13, 2022 via e-mail to jonsmith@fayetteville-ar.gov.

2. COMMUNITY BACKGROUND:

The City of Fayetteville, Arkansas is located across the Boston Range of the wider Ozark Plateau in Northwest Arkansas. It is the county seat of Washington County. The City is home to the University of Arkansas, which is located just outside the Downtown area. The City is more than 55 square miles in area with a population of 93,949 according to the 2020 United States Census data estimations, making it the second largest city in Arkansas.

Fayetteville has a rich cultural history, much of which is still yet to be explored or protected. The town was founded in 1828 on land that had previously been set aside for the western Cherokee Nation. Before the Cherokees, the land had been hunted by the Osage and Quapaw tribes. During the Civil war General Benjamin McCulloch ordered Confederate forces under his command to burn all the commercial buildings, military stores and vacant houses in Fayetteville. On December 6, General Herron and his Union forces marched through and retook Fayetteville for the remainder of the war. After the Civil War many previously enslaved people in Northwest Arkansas moved to the college town of Fayetteville looking for work. Currently numerous groups are working to preserve the often-ignored history of African Americans in the City. You can learn more about the history of Fayetteville here. However, the history on this page ends in 1899. Beginning in 1975, Northwest Arkansas experienced a surge in Hmong and Vietnamese populations with the Indochina Migration and Refugee Assistance Act. The impact of this migration, and the stories of these and many other groups of people that have made Fayetteville what it is today have yet to be fully documented.

On March 1, 1979 the Historic District Commission was created as a group of devoted local citizens concerned with improving and protecting the City’s unique historic and cultural resources. The Commission helps facilitate the identification, evaluation, preservation, restoration, protection, and enhancement of historical, cultural, and archaeological interests. The City of Fayetteville currently has 57 Historic Sites on the National Register and has an array of National Register Historic Districts and neighborhood associations with an eye on preservation. With increased interest in Historic Preservation, the City is exploring various methods to preserve and protect its cultural and historic assets. The Historic District Commission’s goal is to encourage and engage the preservation of historic architecturally significant properties, promote their potential, practical, and useful opportunities, and to establish compatible development within areas of historic properties, neighborhoods, and districts.

The Black Heritage Preservation Commission was created by Resolution 210-21 on August 17, 2021. It was enacted into Fayetteville City Code by Ordinance 6472 on September 7, 2021. The purpose of this Commission is to recognize, acknowledge, protect and preserve historical Black Structures and Cemeteries in honor of the vision, accomplishment, and perseverance of Fayetteville’s early Black families and individuals and the churches and other structures they built. Another Purpose of this Commission is the creation of Black Historical Markers to recognize the struggles and achievements of our Black citizens to promote diversity and equality for all Fayetteville residents and to oppose discrimination against any person in Fayetteville.

3. BENEFITS OF PRESERVATION:

Since the beginning of the United States of America, history has primarily been recorded from the view of the majority. The stories of minorities tend to be viewed as either supportive or antagonistic to majority, but rarely as the focal point of the overall conversation. The City of Fayetteville wishes to have a better understanding of all the histories and cultures that came together to form this great City into what it is today, inclusive of underrepresented cultures and peoples, and their stories.

Cities rely on property-based financial assets for revenue. Vacant, unused, and underused historic buildings brought back to life are also brought back as tax-generating assets for a community. Historic neighborhoods were typically constructed and used in such a way that supports good community planning. They were walkable, with buildings sharing uses, built in tight grids focused on connectivity.

Because historic business districts have such a diverse mix of buildings, they help support businesses of varying sizes and rental rates. The restoration of a historic downtown area often means a new strip mall does not need to be installed elsewhere. The transformation of a historic warehouse into residential units reduces demand to annex and extend services. Likewise, small blocks such as those in historic neighborhoods support density within the current City limits, reducing the need for suburban sprawl and making housing more attainable in the City. Historic preservation also decreases waste. Solid waste landfills are expensive, coming at a high cost to the community and to the environment.

The purpose of this project is to prepare an action-oriented, community-wide historic preservation planning document to promote and coordinate advancement of the protection, preservation, and development of historic and cultural resources within the City of Fayetteville.

4. Scope of Work

- Identification and assessment of the City's historic and cultural resources (including buildings, structures, objects, monuments, areas, landscapes, burial grounds, and sites) including whether additional Historic Resource Surveys are needed, best practices and preservation strategies, and general state of condition.

- Identification of challenges and opportunities pertinent to the preservation of Fayetteville's historic and cultural resources. Included in this identification is an assessment of existing preservation mechanisms.

- Identification of heritage and historic preservation goals and priorities and the development of an Action Plan to implement the identified goals and priorities associated with diverse ethnic, social, and cultural groups who have played a role in the history of Fayetteville.

- Identification of communication, cooperation, and collaboration between existing groups engaged in cultural and historic preservation activities and recommendations for improvement with a focus on comprehensive information and materials about heritage and historic preservation for City government, residents, and the community to serve as educational tools.
and to support coordination of community-wide efforts to promote preservation.

- Outreach to the public, local groups and organizations, local boards and commissions, municipal staff, stakeholder groups, and marginalized communities, including hosting a public forum and providing an overview of heritage and historic preservation challenges and opportunities to the public.

- Recommendations for changes or updates to historic properties inventories, National Register listings, Historic Resource Surveys, and other historic site and structure documentation as applicable.

- Create an Action Plan, Executive Summary, and Heritage & Historic Preservation Master Plan; convene a public forum to present the recommendations of the Draft Plan; provide a summary report of input from public forum and comments on Draft Plan that is incorporated into the Final Plan.

Any contractor engaged to prepare a preservation plan must be qualified as a Historic Preservation Planner or a Historic Preservationist with experience equivalent to a Preservation Planner.

B. CONTRACTOR’S RESPONSIBILITIES

1. The contractor will design and complete a preservation plan or plans, when applicable, in accordance with the Secretary of the Interior’s Standards and Guidelines for Preservation Planning (see at https://www.nps.gov/history/local-law/arch_stnds_0.htm).
2. The contractor will draft design guidelines, when applicable, that include, at minimum:
   a. A summary of the City’s ordinances, procedures, and bylaws relating to work regulated by the City’s Historic District Commission;

3. 4. The contractor will grant the City, the State of Arkansas, and the United States of America a royalty-free, non-exclusive and irrevocable license to publish, reproduce and use, and dispose of in any manner and for any purpose without limitation, and to authorize or ratify publication, reproduction or use by others, of all copyrightable material first produced or composed under this agreement by the contractor, its employees or any individual or concern specifically employed or assigned to originate and prepare such material.

5. The contractor must be able to comply with deadlines and provide initial and completed deliverables by the dates set forth in the contract between the City and the Contractor.

2. AHPP will provide access to any nominations or other background research or information relevant to the project as necessary for project completion.
Appendix F: The Secretary of the Interior’s Historic Preservation Professional Qualification Standards

The Secretary of the Interior’s Professional Qualification Standards were defined and officially adopted in 1983 (48 FR 44716, September 29) by the National Park Service, Department of the Interior, and the Secretary of the Interior’s Historic Preservation Professional Qualification Standards were expanded and revised in 1997 (62 FR 33708, June 20) in response to amendments in the National Historic Preservation Act, but were not formally adopted for federal regulatory purposes. See https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-1997-06-20/pdf/97-16168.pdf for more information.

The 1997 revisions update the professional qualification standards written in 1983 and add definitions for seven other historic preservation disciplines that appear in the National Historic Preservation Act.

The 1997 version also provides guidance on how to measure qualifying credentials that was lacking in the 1983 Standards. In the 1997 version, this information is provided in a standardized format that provides examples of the academic degrees, work and academic products, and professional activities that would qualify a professional in a particular discipline.

Because the 1997 Standards give the clearest description of the current understanding of what a qualified professional is in each of the disciplines described in the National Historic Preservation Act, AHPP uses them as guidance on judging the qualifications of contractors or consultants working on projects funded by AHPP’s CLG grant agreements. It is important to note that these are not intended to be requirements for ALL consultants or contractors working on a project, lead as well as entry-level. However, each project must contain a person in a lead, responsible project role with the requisite expertise.
RFP 22-04, Addendum 1

Date: Monday, April 4, 2022
To: All Prospective Vendors
From: Jonathan Smith – 479.575.8220 – jonsmith@fayetteville-ar.gov
RE: RFP 22-04, Heritage & Historic Preservation Master Plan

This addendum is hereby made a part of the contract documents to the same extent as though it were originally included therein. Bidders should indicate their receipt of same in the appropriate blank of the Bid Form. BIDDERS SHOULD ACKNOWLEDGE THIS ADDENDUM ON THE DESIGNATED LOCATION ON THE BID FORM.

1. The following questions were submitted regarding RFP 22-04:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Question</th>
<th>City Response</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1. Do you anticipate a reconnaissance or intensive level survey effort as part of this Plan?</td>
<td>We do not anticipate an intense level of survey with this plan. Although it is important to understand Fayetteville’s important historic sites and neighborhoods, we are looking to understand the projects, policies and work we would undertake as implementation steps. It is important to the Arkansas Historic Preservation Program (AHPP), which is providing grant funding toward the project, that structures be identified for listing on the National Register of Historic Places, and that can also be an important part of our ability to designate Local Ordinance Historic Districts, but we do not expect a detailed survey of those properties to be provided with this plan.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. The Community Background section of the RFP describes the gap in the history of the community regarding cultural migrations and influences. Is conducting research to fill in this gap anticipated to be part of the scope of work?</td>
<td>Yes. As this is a citywide plan, we are looking to have research support to document aspects of our history that are currently unrepresented or underrepresented.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
3. If we are based out of state, do we have to have a business license for the State of Arkansas or a business license for the City of Fayetteville to be eligible for this work?

No. This is not required if your business is located outside of the state of Arkansas.

4. Can you give or point to examples of the types of financing and public benefit that is referred to in item 1.c. page 3 of 24, which we are directed to discuss in our submittal?

This is standard language for the City’s RFPs. We understand it to apply to this project as an opportunity to propose add-value services or work that the consultant feels best address the project scope and needs, and to explain the cost and benefits of those services to the city and to the project. If there is a project aspect of approach that would require financing or an approach beyond the grant funding and budget allocation for this project, we would be looking to understand that in detail.

5. Is the Price Proposal meant to be submitted as a document separate from the rest of the technical proposal?

No

6. Which is the correct date for last submitting questions – page 14 of the RFP says 10AM CST on April 13, but page 1 of the Bid Invitation list 12:00 PM CST on April 1. And what is the most likely date the Addendum will be posted?

April 1, 2022

7. Can you please confirm that the total consultant budget for this effort is the $50,000 grant, or is there additional funding or a matching amount from the City or other sources?

The City Council has allocated $20,000 in addition to the $50,000 grant for a total current budget of $70,000. Alternative budgets may be considered, however.

8. Are the forms in the RFP document on pages 1, 23 and 24 considered the “signatory” documents that need to be uploaded on the separate tab? Or should they be included in the singular .PDF with the rest of the technical proposal in a Forms section at the back of our submittal?

Yes, these pages are signatory pages and need to be uploaded on the separate tab.

2. A non-mandatory Pre-Response Conference was held on Wednesday, March 30, 2022 at 10:AM CST virtually on Zoom. A complete list of attendees is included in this addendum.

Fayetteville, Arkansas 72701

Dear Mr. Smith,

Cox|McLain Environmental Consulting now Stantec (Stantec) is pleased to submit this proposal in response to RFP 22-04, Heritage & Historic Preservation Master Plan. We take great pride in the quality of our work. We understand the importance of the record we are creating and the foundation it can provide for future projects. We understand that preservation plans are a long-term investment; our goal is to help the City of Fayetteville create an effective plan that reflects local goals and interests and that will serve as a foundation of future preservation initiatives.

We are experienced in working on historic preservation projects in Arkansas, including historic surveys and National Register of Historic Places assessments and nominations. Projects such as the survey for the City of Conway commercial district, historic resources survey of the Country Club Colony and Retta Brown subdivisions for the City of El Dorado, resurvey of the Belle Grove NRHP District in Fort Smith, architectural resurvey of the Hillcrest National Register Historic District neighborhood, and an architectural survey, oral histories, and nomination for the University Park North Subdivision in Little Rock, show the range of our recent Arkansas experience.

Our highly skilled team is prepared to mobilize quickly and is committed to completing all work to the satisfaction of the City in accordance with established deadlines. We have carefully considered the level of effort required to complete the project and believe that we are exceptionally qualified to provide the requested services. The majority of the work will be done from our Austin, Texas office.

We have received and reviewed the issued addendum. We have no conflicts of interest and are fully insured. A Certificate of Insurance listing the City as an additional insured will be provided prior to work beginning.

We would be glad to provide additional information regarding our qualifications or speak with you directly to discuss our proposal. Ms. Reed has legal authority to submit this proposal.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

We understand that the City of Fayetteville wishes to have a better understanding of all of the cultures and histories that have contributed to the identity of the City. This understanding should represent the diversity found in the City, including the stories and history of underrepresented cultures and peoples. To accomplish this goal, the City desires the preparation of an action-oriented, community-wide historic preservation planning document to promote and coordinate advancement of the protection, preservation, and development of historic and cultural resources within the city of Fayetteville.

We know that understanding the City's goals and challenges as well as successful community engagement will be critical to this project. Our partner McDouxf brings extensive experience in community-driven preservation projects. McDouxf's goal is not to simply deliver a product but to empower clients to improve their local preservation programs. We will lean on McDouxf's expertise in developing and conducting robust and meaningful community engagement activities, listening to the public's concerns, and creating an environment where people know they will be heard. This information is documented and analyzed in coordination with quantitative data, so the result is a well-rounded, thoughtful, and community-supported solution. We look forward to working with the City to ensure that everyone has the opportunity to make their voice heard.

The plan will have a holistic scope and it will help identify historic resources, promote their value, and encourage the use of preservation as an economic development tool. As part of the development of the plan, we will undertake the following tasks:

- Examine existing land use patterns and structures in historic neighborhoods.
- Examine past preservation efforts, noting strengths and weaknesses.
- Recommend best practices for historic preservation.
- Identify the areas of most significant cultural and historical importance in the City.
- Identify which cultural and historic resources the City wants to preserve and how to prioritize them.
- Identify strategies to preserve these resources.

To fulfill the goals and tasks for the project, we will provide the following services:

- Project Management: Project Manager Emily Reed has a proven track record of overseeing the completion of preservation planning projects that exceed client expectations and are on time and on budget. Our team emphasizes clear and effective communication with the client, stakeholders, and the public. Our projects are regularly reviewed and accepted by SHPOs with little or no revisions. We recognize that each project is different, and our planning process is well-developed and customized to meet our clients' needs. We'll develop a comprehensive project plan with goals and clear methodologies for accomplishing the goals, along with a detailed project timeline. Our team will facilitate and manage activities and communications; recommend a communications strategy to reach and engage stakeholders; and design collateral materials in collaboration with City staff, including web and digital resources, to support the project and the final Master Plan.

- Public Engagement: We will work with the City of develop and implement a comprehensive strategy and methodology for community involvement in the heritage and historic preservation planning process. Public engagement is recommended to include surveys, stakeholder interviews, and other forms of public interactions.

- Evaluation and Assessment: Our team will assess and evaluate policies and strategies impacting heritage and historic preservation, gather data and inventory cultural and historic sites, and develop a written Action Plan. The Action Plan will include a defined time-frame for proposed actions, leadership or collaborations to implement, and an assessment of resource requirements, including types of investments, possible cost ranges, potential funding sources, and goals with measurable objectives.

We understand that the final Plan will layout priorities, goals, and strategies for the City and the Historic District Commission to continue and strengthen preservation efforts in the City. Priority, goals, and strategies will be informed through public input from stakeholders, City staff, and the general public. We are committed to the City of Fayetteville and will help the city achieve these goals.

We have the experience and qualifications to fulfill the City’s request for a historic preservation planning document to promote and coordinate advancement of the protection, preservation, and development of historic and cultural resources. Our team are specialists in working with communities to tackle complex, multi-faceted historic preservation projects and we bring that experience to completing the Scope of Work established by the City.

Our historic preservation services include historic preservation plans; surveys of historic resources; historic context development; archival research; custom historic resources database development; eligibility evaluations; local, state, and NRHP nominations; preservation planning; survey planning; regulatory compliance; and community outreach and stakeholder engagement. Our in-house GIS professionals are skilled in supporting historic preservation projects and producing a variety of historic resource mapping deliverables.

Our team has extensive experience with preservation planning for individual historic resources, historic districts, and municipalities. We combine community input; previous reports and data; on-site investigations; the analysis of existing codes and guidelines; and client and public priorities to develop recommendations that can feasibly be applied to short-term and long-term preservation goals.

HISTORIC AND CULTURAL RESOURCES ASSESSMENT

Our team will conduct a review of the City’s historic and cultural resources to identify and assess the general condition of the resources, whether additional Historic Resource Surveys are needed, and to determine best practices and preservation strategies. This process will include buildings, structures, monuments, areas, landscapes, burial grounds, and sites, as applicable.

CHALLENGES AND OPPORTUNITIES

Our team has experience evaluating and implementing preservation codes and ordinances. Team members Emily Reed and Steph McDougal have served on local historic commissions and actively applied preservation codes to proposed projects. As part of our survey projects, our team regularly reviews and assess existing preservation mechanisms, codes, and ordinances for opportunities for improvement and make recommendations for future preservation planning activities. Our experience is directly applicable to our identification of the challenges and opportunities that may be pertinent to the preservation of the City's historic and cultural resources.

GOALS, PRIORITIES, AND ACTION PLAN DEVELOPMENT

We will work with the City on the identification of their heritage and preservation goals and priorities, and we will incorporate that information into the development of an Action Plan for implementing the identified goals and priorities that are associated with the diversity of ethnic, social, and cultural groups who are important parts of the history of Fayetteville.

COMMUNICATION, COOPERATION, AND COLLABORATION

A vital part of the project is the identification of how best to ensure that the necessary communication channels are well established, and to incorporate existing preservation groups into the communication, cooperation, and collaboration process. We will prepare recommendations for improvements in communication, cooperation, and collaboration, with the goal of providing City government, residents, and the community comprehensive information and materials on heritage and historic preservation to serve as educational tools and to support the coordination and promotion of community-wide preservation efforts.

OUTREACH

Community involvement is at the center of our preservation projects and, along with the City and agency officials, directs priorities and opportunities for recommendations. The input, education, and engagement of the community, including the public, local groups and organizations, local boards and commissions, stakeholder groups, municipal staff as well as marginalized communities, is key to establishing and maintaining successful long-term preservation goals. Our public outreach always includes a wide variety of communication options, including hard-copy materials placed for reference/review at local library branches or other accessible public locations, and public meetings and forums where overviews of the both the challenges and opportunities involved in heritage and historic preservation are provided.

RECOMMENDATIONS

As the different phases of the project progress, our team will be actively compiling recommendations for changes or updates to historic properties inventories, National Register listings, Historic Resource Surveys, and any other applicable historic site and structure documentation.

ACTION PLAN, EXECUTIVE SUMMARY, AND HERITAGE & HISTORIC PRESERVATION PLAN

We will produce a Heritage & Historic Preservation Plan with an Action Plan and Executive Summary. As part of this process, we will hold a public forum at which the Draft Plan will be presented along with our recommendations. Any comments, questions, or other input will be included as part of our summary report on the public forum, with this summary being included as part of the Final Plan.

RESOURCES FOR PROJECT MANAGEMENT

Stantec uses a suite of software management processes. Oracle project management and accounting software integrates resource scheduling and allocation, contract compliance, invoicing, and timesheet collection. The system is updated daily, giving current detailed views of project progress and generating useful alerts. Stantec project managers closely track deliverable, task, and work authorization expiration dates, and key stages in expenditures for labor and direct expenses in Oracle. We use this tool across our programs and offices to achieve effective communications, tracking, and project management for our clients’ benefit.

Stantec also uses integrated leading-edge technologies to support historic preservation work. We use ArcGIS Online (AGOL) and ArcGIS to map and analyze collections of historical resources that allows multiple users to share an interface. Our team uses Wi-Fi/cellular tablets during field investigations to record data automatically saved to the cloud. To produce reports, we use Microsoft Office and the Adobe Creative Suite. Our expertise with these programs results in handsome deliverables that clearly convey results and are compatible with client software.

With multiple moving parts, longer-term projects like historic preservation plans require accessible and integrated software to organize and track all project components, from research, to developing outlines, and writing and editing deliverables, to tracking project tasks, personnel assignments, and due dates. Stantec hosts draft documents online in Microsoft SharePoint, a collaboration platform that allows multiple users to work simultaneously in the same document. The application automatically stores new versions of working documents and supports editing and quality assurance markups and comments. Zotero is a desktop and online platform that organizes sources for in-document citations and bibliographies. During research phases, the platform enables the team to capture primary and secondary sources online and manually to a shared project library. During the synthesis phase, the platform guides critical thinking to organize ideas and annotate sources. Finally, during the writing phase, Zotero’s “cite and write” capability pulls citations from the shared library to produce the bibliography. With the Zotero tool, our team promotes development of a project library that organizes and safely stores research sources that can be readily shared. The Stantec team uses collaborative applications—the list-making Trello and the spreadsheet-database hybrid Airtable—to assign and monitor tasks, deadlines, and progress, track deliverables, and communicate.

QUALITY CONTROL

We take great pride in the quality of our work. We understand the importance of the record we are creating and the foundation it can provide for future projects. We understand that preservation plans are a long-term investment; our goal is to help the City of Fayetteville create an effective plan that reflects local goals and interests and that will serve as a foundation of future preservation initiatives. We have developed a three-part quality QA/QC process that holds three historic preservation professionals accountable for the work we deliver to our clients. Work products are self-checked by the primary author and then reviewed by the project manager and project principal. We also collaborate with an independent technical editor who specializes in cultural resource management documentation to produce deliverables with thoughtful content presented in a clear and concise manner. Recommendations are carefully considered through roundtable discussions with our most experienced preservation professionals. Our clients attest to the difference. We are frequently retained by municipalities after completing projects for subsequent preservation planning services.

COMMUNICATION

At the project outset, Stantec will confirm the communication preferences of the City of Fayetteville and will design a communication plan accordingly. Project Manager Emily Reed will serve as the single point of contact for the City. Stantec will be available to attend steering committee meetings monthly. We will provide the City with quarterly reports detailing project progress for submittal to the Arkansas Historic Preservation Program, in accordance with grant requirements. Internally, the project team will meet weekly to review progress in comparison to the deliverable schedule and budget burn rate.

PROJECT INITIATION PROCESS

Upon selection as the firm to prepare the historic preservation plan for the City of Fayetteville, Stantec will collaborate with the City to develop a final scope and schedule and to prepare for the project. Items to discuss and finalize may include:

- Goal, objectives, and expectations
- Successes and failures with the existing historic preservation program
- Preliminary discussion of observed trends from City and stakeholder perspective that could shape the preservation plan
  - Areas threatened by redevelopment or neglect
  - Areas of special interest to the community
  - Properties or neighborhoods associated with underrepresented groups
- Prior survey and documentation
- Input from prior community meetings or surveys
- Successes and failures with community engagement
• Economic development priorities
• Identification of key community liaisons and resources
• Resources available
  o Prior survey records
  o Historical photos and property records
  o Historical building permits and records
  o Plat maps
  o Other archival material
  o GIS data
    ▪ GIS parcel boundaries and county assessor data
    ▪ GIS shapefiles of previous survey areas
• Final schedule development

The decisions reached during this collaboration phase of the project will be documented in a final scope of work and project calendar. Stantec will submit this written document to the City prior to project commencement.
TARRANT COUNTY, TEXAS HISTORIC PRESERVATION AND SURVEY PLAN, 2019–2021

Historians from Stantec contributed to a historic preservation and survey plan for Tarrant County, the first countywide plan in Texas. The document involved a summary of the current state of preservation, an inventory of previously surveyed and designated properties, development of goals and objectives; a multiple-year survey plan; and an implementation plan. The project required public involvement and close collaboration with the County Historical Commission. Stantec led the creation of the GIS-based inventory, which combined digitized and previously undigitized data from numerous historic resources surveys and resources designated at the local, state, and national level; developed a customized survey plan for 41 municipalities and unincorporated areas of the county, requiring extensive GIS analysis and development of a list of priority sites for future documentation and evaluation; and coordinated public outreach.

The scope of the project began in August 2019, first focusing on gathering data from prior historic resources surveys and examples of existing preservation policies and ordinances countywide. Through the fall of 2019 and winter of 2020, consulting work included public outreach and involvement, engagement with County and municipal staff, coordination with multiple preservation groups, and other stakeholders with a demonstrated interested in historic preservation. Three draft plans followed, and comments from Tarrant County, the THC, and public stakeholders were reviewed and addressed. The plan developed seven tailored goals: updating the countywide historic resources survey, promoting economic benefits and incentives, increasing the number of historic designations, enhancing public policies encouraging preservation, relationship building and working with municipalities, continuing public outreach and involvement efforts, and creating a record of the prehistory and archaeology of Tarrant County.

Particularly relevant to the Fayetteville Heritage and Historic Preservation Master Plan effort, the Tarrant County project required a thorough review of previous historic resources surveys and properties with historic designations in the county. Our GIS experts mapped all properties previously documented in the county and utilized county appraisal district data on construction dates to identify patterns and make recommendations.

CITY OF CORPUS CHRISTI TEXAS HISTORIC PRESERVATION PLAN, 2020-2021

The City of Corpus Christi retained McDoux to prepare an update to the City's Historic Preservation Plan; previous plans were published in 1976 and 1992. The project included a robust public engagement effort that connected with nearly 800 Corpus Christians through stakeholder interviews and an opinion survey; in addition, hundreds more residents participated in three Community Meetings. (The first virtual community meeting, presented live across several social media platforms, had more than 1,400 views within 24 hours.) The 2021 Plan sought to identify ways to integrate historic preservation activities into the City's broader planning and economic goals; review the city's historic resources and provide strategies for preservation; review national best practices and recommend updates to the historic preservation portions of the City's code; and provide toolkits for rehabilitation of historic properties. McDoux promoted and encouraged public participation in the preservation planning process through a dedicated webpage, social media strategy on multiple platforms, press releases, and printed materials. The Plan was approved unanimously by the Landmark and Planning Commissions and is now awaiting Council consideration.

Relevant to the Fayetteville Heritage and Historic Preservation Master Plan, the plan for Corpus Christi included a goal of including underrepresented areas. McDoux's analysis showed that only 5 of the city's 40 designated properties are associated with Mexican Americans, and only one is associated with African Americans. McDoux developed several actionable strategies to address this important goal.

HISTORIC PRESERVATION PLAN FOR MOBERLY, MISSOURI, 2021-2022

The City of Moberly, Missouri selected Stantec to prepare a historic preservation plan for the City. It is the first robust preservation plan for the community, as the first plan (2010) was limited to two pages. Stantec historians conducted fact-finding interviews with stakeholders representing a wide variety of perspectives on preservation in the city, including historic commission members, developers, realtors, owners of historic properties, and historic preservation advocates. Stantec developed a community questionnaire to measure the extent to which the issues identified by stakeholders are important to the broader public. The questionnaire was designed to gauge the public’s understanding of the current historic preservation program, gain feedback on successes and roadblocks to preservation, and solicit recommendations for program improvements.

Stantec facilitated an in-person working meeting with City staff and the public to identify goals and associated action items. While in town for the first meeting, our historians also conducted a limited windshield survey of the city to inform survey and designation recommendations made as part of the plan. The historic preservation plan strategically reviewed the goals of the 2010 plan and evaluated progress on each. Another key aspect of the Stantec plan was the analysis of the City’s participation in the Certified Local Government program. We assessed the degree to which the City’s activities were compliant and also reviewed the State’s annual evaluations of the City’s CLG activities.

Relevant to the City of Fayetteville project, the preservation plan for Moberly is highly actionable. The itemized objectives provide a strategy, temporal prioritization (short/medium/long term), relative cost, whether grant funding could be used, and identifies responsible parties and potential partners. The draft plan was published in April 2022 and will be refined with further feedback from the City and community.

DETAILED DRAFT AND SCOPE OF SERVICES

TASK 1. PROJECT MANAGEMENT

This task will capture the project management (internal and external) during the development of the plan. As noted in the Management Approach section, Stantec would begin the project with a productive kick off meeting to support effective project initiation.

Deliverables for this task include:

- Project Work Plan
- Progress meeting agendas and minutes
- Quarterly progress reports

TASK 2. EXISTING CONDITIONS ANALYSIS

During this phase of the project, Stantec will conduct a general background review of the history of Fayetteville. It is Stantec practice to immerse ourselves in the history of the communities we work in to identify the important patterns, events, persons, property types, and cultural values of each place. A solid understanding of Fayetteville’s history and broader historical trends is necessary to have informed conversations with stakeholders and members of the public and will inform the development of the historic context for Fayetteville and the history of historic preservation in Fayetteville required for the plan.

This task will involve a review, assessment, and summary of the City of Fayetteville’s existing preservation program, economic factors, and tools. Stantec will work with community members, City officials, City Council, the Historic District Commission (HDC), and stakeholders to assess the successes, failures, and general knowledge and reception of these existing programs, procedures, and tools. Topics to explore will include:

- Successes and failures with the existing historic preservation program
- Preliminary discussion of observed trends from City and stakeholder perspective that could shape the preservation plan
  - Areas threatened by redevelopment or neglect
  - Areas of special interest to the community
  - Properties or neighborhoods associated with underrepresented groups
- Prior survey and documentation
  - Input from prior community meetings or surveys

Any City programs or policies related to historic preservation will also be reviewed, assessed, and summarized. This assessment will help to help craft questions and discussions points for stakeholder interviews and public, and the summaries will be included in the final preservation plan. This analysis will identify challenges and opportunities for the City’s preservation program.

During this task, Stantec prepare an annotated list of previous historic resources surveys. We will create an online map using the ArcGIS Online (AGOL) platform to conduct map-based analysis. The map will include the locations of previous survey projects, designated historic properties, current and georeferenced aerial images, and georeferenced Sanborn maps to facilitate analysis of changes to Fayetteville over time and significant periods of development.

Example of the type of GIS-based map Stantec will use to consolidate and analyze data. This map shows resources designated at the local, state, and national levels; previous survey data and NRHP determinations of eligibility; resources identified during contextual development; and other sources. Topographic map images, historical aerial images, and a color-coded layer showing the earliest construction date for each parcel can be turned on and off as base layers. Stantec historians used the application to identify high priority resources and areas for future documentation.

The result of the existing conditions analysis will identify whether additional historic resources surveys are needed, including updates to previous surveys and surveys of previously undocumented properties. Work products from this task will be incorporated into the Heritage and Historic Preservation Master Plan document.

TASK 3. COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT AND OUTREACH

PUBLIC OUTREACH STRATEGY

The Stantec team will develop a public outreach strategy that places the community voice first in planning the future of historic preservation in Fayetteville. The strategy will specify how public input is integrated in all components of the plan, including vision, goals, criteria, opportunities, strategy, and implementation. To ensure the capture of all citizen perspectives, the plan will incorporate both traditional and non-traditional outreach methods. Social media, the City’s website, and targeted marketing will ensure sufficient engagement. In addition to collecting stakeholder input, our skilled team will be a valuable resource for any questions the community may have. Tangible resources including but not limited to slideshows, maps, presentation boards, diagrams, tables, and handouts may be developed and provided for events and continued reference. Once complete, key themes and principles from the community engagement phase will be incorporated in the plan.

It is our experience that both qualitative and quantitative data are needed in order to not only identify potential topics of interest, but also measure the extent to which those are reflected throughout the larger community. Based on our team’s previous experience with public engagement for historic preservation, we recommend the following strategies: use of a steering committee, stakeholder fact-finding interviews, community opinion survey, and interactive meetings. We do not propose to hold focus groups. Focus groups are relatively time-consuming on the part of all participants and the facilitator, but generally yield much less information per participant than can be gathered through other methods. One-on-one telephone interviews, for example, can take less participant and facilitator time than a focus group and generate substantially more information. Data gathered through focus groups or interviews is anecdotal and must be further tested through a survey with sufficient participants to be both valid and reliable.

STEERING COMMITTEE

We understand that the City would like to engage a steering committee for the development of the plan. The City will identify appropriate members, coordinate their participation, and host the meetings. Stantec will be available to attend a monthly steering committee meeting throughout the project to provide regular updates and gather input and feedback.

STAKEHOLDER INTERVIEWS

Based on the results of our background research, we will conduct up to 15 virtual/telephone fact-finding interviews with individuals representing key stakeholder groups. Stakeholder interviews have two main objects:

- Providing an opportunity for stakeholder groups to share view and influence the outcome of the planning process.
- Ensure that the planning effort addresses issues of importance to those affected by the plan.

These interviews help to identify issues of concern to the members of the community most active and engaged in historic preservation. This information will be supported and supplemented by further investigation to determine the extent to which these issues prevail throughout the greater community. The Stantec team is committed to guaranteeing anonymity during the interview and reporting process, thus allowing participants to speak candidly.

Working with the City, the Stantec team will finalize the list of stakeholder groups, which may include the following:

- HDC members
- Local architects
- Local developers
- Local preservation stakeholders
- Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce
- City personnel in key departments
- Stakeholders from underrepresented and marginalized communities
- Organizations focusing on art, culture, heritage, and historic preservation

We will draft a set of questions and provide the City the opportunity to edit or suggest question topics. A final set of questions with an opportunity for open comments will be developed. Interviews will be summarized, and the findings will be incorporated into the historic preservation plan.

ONLINE COMMUNITY OPINION SURVEY

Stantec will develop a community opinion survey of no more than 15 questions, to measure the extent to which issues identified by stakeholders are important to the public as a whole. The target response number is 383 completed surveys, to reach a 95% confidence level with 5% margin of error, based on the population of Fayetteville. The survey will also help gauge the public’s understanding of the current preservation program, gain feedback on successes, as well as roadblocks to preservation, and solicit recommendations. Stantec will develop the survey and solicit input and approval from the City. It can be distributed through the City website, local neighborhood associations, NextDoor message boards, and other relevant communication vehicles identified by the City and Stantec. The results of the community opinion survey will be summarized, and the findings will be incorporated into the historic preservation plan.

Deliverables for this task include:

- Community Involvement Plan
- Stakeholder interview summary report
- Raw data from community survey

TASK 4. IDENTIFY THE VISION AND GOALS SPECIFIC TO THE CITY OF FAYETTEVILLE

COMMUNITY VISIONING

Following stakeholder interviews and the launch of the online community opinion survey, Stantec will conduct meetings to identify and prioritize historic preservation issues in the community. Stantec will host up to three public meetings. Although the draft schedule in the RFP suggests holding 3 meetings before the development of the plan, we propose a value-add approach of sequencing the meetings to ensure maximum public opportunity for meaningful engagement and trust-building.

PUBLIC MEETING 1

The first meeting would be held in September 2022. At this meeting, the public will be introduced to the project, its goals, and opportunities for involvement. The data from our work on the project up to this point will be used as a basis for information-gathering activities at the meeting. This meeting is intended to be a working meeting that encourages public input on the vision and goals for the historic preservation plan. We will address key discussion topics such as defining historic preservation and its benefits; how historic significance is defined (including various designation levels); and how historic preservation tools can be used in practice (including case studies). The meeting will also provide an overview of heritage and historic preservation challenges and opportunities. The meeting will be sequenced to occur during the period that the community survey is open; participants will be reminded to participate.

PUBLIC MEETING 2

The second meeting will be a public forum to present the recommendations of the Draft Plan. At this point in the schedule, the first draft of the plan will have been reviewed by the Historic District Commission, Black Heritage Preservation Commission, Planning Commission, and City Council and suggested revisions incorporated. During this meeting, the Stantec team will explain how the results of the stakeholder interviews, steering committee meetings, and community survey were incorporated into the plan. The team will explain the public review process for the plan, including how the community can access the draft and submit comments.

PUBLIC MEETING 3

The third and final public meeting will occur when the final draft of the plan has been published. We will review the goals and action items and energize the community for taking an active role in execution of the plan.

Deliverables for this task will include: copies of meeting materials, sign-in sheets, and a summary of input from the public forum and comments on Draft Plan that is incorporated into the Final Plan.

TASK 5. PREPARATION OF THE PLAN DOCUMENT

We have reviewed the anticipated table of contents in the RFP and will design the plan contents accordingly, allowing flexibility for inclusion of potential additional sections and/or organizational approach. The below outline presents potential contents for the plan, which would be vetted with the City.

- Cover Page
- Acknowledgements
- Executive Summary
- Table of Contents
- Introduction
  - Explanation of the purpose of the plan
  - Brief history of Fayetteville, including an overview of previous preservation efforts

  • Summary of incentives, grants, and other tools for historic preservation and rehabilitation
  • Supplemental maps and images

The plan will be a clearly written and concise document that commission members, staff, and the public can readily use. Following internal review and our three-part QA/QC process, Stantec will submit one electronic draft of the plan for the City’s review and comment. The City’s representative will distribute the draft to project stakeholders as desired (e.g. the HDC, Black Heritage Preservation Commission, Planning Commission, etc.), review staff and stakeholders’ comments, and compile a final refined set of comments into a comment matrix.

We will host a virtual meeting to discuss any comments that require clarification, and then prepare Draft 2 of the plan, incorporating the review comments. Once vetted by the City, Draft 2 will be published for public/community review. For similar projects, we have had success hosting a Google Sheets document for entering comments in a matrix. Alternate methods (e.g. paper/mailed comment forms) will also be offered, to ensure that there is an opportunity for accessible and meaningful public comment.

After addressing comments from the public on Draft 2, we will prepare the Final Draft Plan for submission to AHPP. After AHPP review and the third public meeting, the Final Plan will be prepared for City Council Approval.
PROJECT SCHEDULE

We have reviewed the CLG Grant Agreement with the Arkansas Historic Preservation Program and will bring our understanding of the grant requirements as well as our extensive prior experience with grants to bear to ensure that the project progresses smoothly and in accordance with all stipulations. The schedule below was prepared accordingly and accommodates completion in advance of the grant deadline of August 1, 2023. As noted in our management approach, we have proposed a slightly different schedule of reviews of the plan than the dates suggested in the RFP. The schedule below accommodates the grant agreement's requirement for submission of draft and final plan documents to the Arkansas Historic Preservation Program by May 12 and June 19, 2023, respectively. This schedule presents our suggestion for best management of the project but could be adjusted as necessary following Stantec’s selection as the vendor.
